The Investment Banking Deal Competition on Campus

The Deal

At J.P. Morgan, we're looking for students who understand the market, can think on their feet, and are ready to take on the challenges of the investment banking industry.

As a finalist, you'll get to analyze real-world financial data, publicly listed companies, and more. You'll also have the chance to meet with our team's choice.

Visit jpmorgan.com/thedeal to register and learn about the competition. We'll be looking for students who can think on their feet and prove that you have the resilience we look for. And prove that you're ready for a business rewarding experience. If you're selected, you'll be rewarded with a final interview for an Investment Banking Summer Internship position in Asia.

Registration closes: June 2, 2013
